f) multiplying the composite score in a post computer step by estimated recoverable dollar amounts to calculate a base recovery and increasing said base recovery by estimated recoverable costs and interest amounts to yield a final profit.

4.   (twice amended) the process of Claim [3] 1 wherein transforming said data is achieved by calculating a category score for each category.

8.   (amended) The process of Claim [7] 1 wherein the intellectual property to be commercialized is a patent.

9.   (amended) The process of Claim [7] 1 wherein the intellectual property to be commercialized is a trademark.

10.   (amended) The process of Claim [7] 1 wherein the intellectual property to be commercialized is a copyright.

11.   (three times amended) A process for determining the probable success of an intellectual property enforcement lawsuit comprising the steps of:
        a) performing at least one set of pre-selected tasks selected from the group consisting of technical orientation, technical review, preliminary assessment, patent study, market identification and analysis, industry intelligence, cost benefit analysis, marketing and licensing assessment.
        b)[a)] interacting with a pre-programmed computer;
        c)[b)] entering data from one or more sources including from a completed set of said pre-selected tasks and from a questionnaire [completed by the owner of the intellectual property] into said computer, said computer having been pre-programmed such that said data is organized by pre-determined categories;
        d)[c)] evaluating the data by comparing each category to a preset standard;
        e)[d)] transforming said data into a composite score which represents a relative degree of strength associated with the lawsuit;
        f)[e)] using the composite score to determine a probable success factor for undertaking the lawsuit.
        g) multiplying the probable success factor in a post computer step by projected recoveries to determine the net recovery from commercializing the Intellectual Property.

13.   (twice amended) The process of claim [12] 11 wherein the composite score is based upon an evaluation of one or more risk factors specific to the intellectual property upon which a suit is being brought.

14.   (twice amended) The process of claim [12] 11 wherein the composite score is a category score resulting from categorizing various risk factors into categories and determining a category score.